ADVOCACY

As the captive industry grows, we become a larger target for entities that do not understand captive insurance. CICA continues to provide education and public comments on actions such as the micro captive regulations proposed by the U.S. Treasury, to help protect our industry.

Despite its growth, the captive industry remains relatively small and heavily reliant on personal connections. Engaging in CICA's initiatives provides a stimulating and supportive environment. This enables individuals to expand their knowledge and build a network of trusted contacts who become invaluable resources.
